

Your colleagues are UFF members. You should be, too!

UFF protects faculty rights in an era of increasing assaults on academic freedom and reduced educational funding. I am proud to be a member of the Union, proud to belong to an organization dedicated to promoting the interests of the scholars who teach the next generation of American leaders.

- Dr. Diane Roberts, Professor, Department of English

Only the UFF can provide a basis for negotiation of faculty rights with the University. Given the long history and current trend of collective bargaining in the United States, joining the UFF is the smart and quintessentially American thing to do.

- Dr. Scott Hannahs, Director, DC Facilities & Instrumentation Mag Lab, and American Physical Society Fellow

An overwhelming majority of the faculty voted to have the UFF act as faculty's exclusive legal representative to the administration, and the UFF actively negotiates the terms and conditions of your employment. If you care about those, you owe it to yourself to get involved. If you like what the UFF is doing, support it. If you don't, vote for change. Either way, you need to join.

- Dr. Ted Baker, Professor and Mainline Information Systems Chair, Department of Computer Science

Paid parental leave, salary compression, faculty losses: UFF-FSU has been steadfast in working on these critical issues, to the benefit of the University and the faculty working here.

- Dr. John Reynolds, Eagles Professor, Department of Sociology, and Director, Pepper Institute on Aging & Public Policy

UFF membership entitles you to:

- $1,000,000 in professional liability insurance
- $10,000 in life insurance
- $50,000 in accidental death insurance
- Two free half-hour non-employment-related legal consultations
- Discounts on home & auto insurance, and on publications
- A voice in defining UFF negotiating priorities
- UFF representation should you need to file a grievance
